Dear Parents and Carers,

Macmillan Coffee Morning

Thank you so much for the amazing turn out at the Macmillan Coffee afternoon. It was great to see so many of you there, eating cakes and joining in with the Quizzes. A big thank you to all that supplied cakes, biscuits and cookies as they looked fantastic. There are clearly some talented bakers out there. To the parents and prefects that helped to serve cakes, your support was much appreciated. Also congratulations to Kelly in Year 6 who won the 'Guess the Spots on the Cake' so well done to her!

I will announce the total next week but I am certain it will be a lot, especially due to the very generous donation made by our Head Girl Aparna. Thank you so much.

I hope our families enjoyed having an extra day off this week; the staff attended a very useful conference around writing and reading. It was very thought provoking and will help to develop our pupils as avid readers and writers.

Parents please keep a watchful eye on any younger children while dropping off and picking up older siblings. While we have staff on the gate, it does fall to you to keep pre-school children with you at all times. I remind you that children must not be left unsupervised in cars and seat-belts must be worn by law.

A short letter this week, I hope families celebrating Eid and Yom Kippur enjoyed doing so. The pupils have been telling me all about their celebrations, which sound lovely.
